

HALLOWEEN IS FULL OF TRICKS AND TREATS FOR LEXINGTON KIDS

Bowman kids support Halloween for Hunger

Amy White and her young son Joshua worked with students at Lexington's Bowman School to make a significant contribution to the Lexington Food Pantry. Halloween for Hunger was introduced by LHS Alum and Bridgewater State professor Jonathan White. Halloween for Hunger is associated with Free the Children. For more information, please visit: www.freethechildren.com/halloweenforhunger (Photo by Katherine Reem)

A special thank you once again goes out to the Lexington Retailer's Association for organizing the Eighth Annual Trick or Treat with Lexington Businesses. Photos by Jim Shaw